PREFACE

Internships are an important part of the undergraduate programme, as they allow students to see how classroom learning is applied in real organisations. The Four-Year Undergraduate Programme (FYUGP), introduced in line with the National Education Policy 2020, gives special importance to experiential learning, skill development and employability. This report has been prepared as part of the internship requirement of Magadh University and the Higher Education guidelines applicable in Bihar.

The report describes the internship undertaken in Hospitality, Tourism & Event Management at RKNEXORA PRIVATE LIMITED, the plan followed, the work carried out, and the learning gained. Hospitality, travel and events together form one of the largest service sectors in India and a major source of jobs. Bihar, with places such as Bodh Gaya, Nalanda, Rajgir and Vaishali, has a rich heritage and a growing tourism potential, and it needs trained people who can welcome guests, plan tours and organise events well. This internship offered a first-hand introduction to that field.

The report has been arranged in the order suggested by the University, beginning with the cover page and acknowledgement and ending with the conclusion and attendance sheet. It is hoped that the report gives a clear and honest account of the internship experience.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This report documents the internship completed in Hospitality, Tourism & Event Management at RKNEXORA PRIVATE LIMITED (RK NEXORA - 'Campus to Career'). The programme required a minimum of 120 hours, completed over about four to five weeks (28 working days) with daily sessions of four to five hours, and was supported by an attendance log, supervisor guidance and review.

Background. Hospitality, tourism and events are service industries in which the product is the guest's experience. A hotel stay, a tour or a seminar succeeds only when reservations, guest handling, transport, food, safety, budgets and vendors are planned and coordinated well. Hospitality, tourism and event management is the discipline that plans and monitors these services so that guests are welcomed, served safely and satisfied. For a student from any discipline, the internship shows how communication, planning, costing, coordination and ethics work in a real service setting.

Objectives. The internship aimed to (i) build a structured understanding of the hospitality, tourism and events industry, (ii) learn front office operations, guest handling and service standards, (iii) learn tour package planning and travel booking systems, (iv) learn event planning, budgeting and vendor coordination, (v) understand guest feedback analysis, safety and hygiene standards, and (vi) develop communication, documentation and professional discipline.

Work carried out. The student first studied the structure of the hospitality industry, then worked through front office operations, guest handling and service, tour package planning, travel booking systems, event planning basics, event budgeting, vendor coordination, guest feedback analysis, and safety and hygiene standards. Each topic had a concept session followed by a hands-on task using sample forms, itineraries, budgets and dummy data. The later part of the programme was devoted to a case study, a mock practical exercise, supervisor review and preparation of this report.

Project. The work was tied together in a project titled Guest Service & Event Planning Project, in which a tour package and an event plan were prepared covering guest handling, budgeting and vendor coordination.

Method. A blended method was followed - learn, practise, document and review - supported by a daily attendance log with day-wise remarks and regular feedback from the supervisor.

Learning gained. The student gained a clear understanding of how hotels, tour operators and event organisers work, practical familiarity with reservation and registration forms, itinerary and package costing, event budgets and vendor follow-up, awareness of safety and hygiene standards, and improved communication, courtesy and professional discipline.

Key observations. Guest satisfaction depends on careful planning and accurate records; a clear budget and written vendor confirmations prevent last-minute problems; and safety and hygiene must always come first.

Conclusion. The internship met its objectives and contributed to the student's academic understanding, employability and confidence. The report follows the University's suggestive format: cover page, acknowledgement, certificate, contents, preface, executive summary, about the agency, plan and execution, learning outcome, conclusion and attendance sheet.

2. Mission

To deliver structured learning experiences that connect academic knowledge with workplace expectations.

3. Activities of the Agency

1. Structured internship programmes aligned with university and higher-education requirements.
2. Skill-development learning modules, practical activities and assignments.
3. Attendance tracking, supervision, assessment and documentation.
4. Employability-oriented guidance connecting campus learning to career readiness.

4. Programme Structure

The internship programme is organised around a fixed number of learning hours, completed over a defined period. Each intern is registered on the internship portal with a unique registration number, is assigned a supervisor, follows a day-wise plan and maintains an attendance log. Learning is organised into three phases: Orientation (Days 1-2), Learning and Practice (Days 3-22, ten sub-topics of two days each: one concept day and one hands-on day) and Project and Review (Days 23-28), followed by a concluding review.

5. Role of the Supervisor

The internship supervisor assigned by the agency guided the student through the programme, explained concepts, assigned practice tasks, reviewed the daily log and gave feedback. The supervisor also verified attendance and reviewed the student's work at the end of the programme.

PLAN AND EXECUTION

1. Objectives

The internship was planned around the following objectives, each linked to a part of the programme:

1. Understand Hospitality, Tourism & Event Management - structure of the industry, hotel types, departments and career roles (Week 1).
2. Learn front office operations and guest handling - reservations, check-in / check-out, registration, service standards and complaint handling (Weeks 1-2).
3. Learn tour package planning and travel booking systems - itinerary design, costing, and ticket, hotel and package booking (Week 2).
4. Learn event planning, budgeting and vendor coordination - event types, checklists, timelines, cost estimates and quotations (Week 3).
5. Understand guest feedback analysis, safety and hygiene standards - feedback forms, food safety, fire safety and guest safety (Week 4).
6. Develop professional discipline - communication, courtesy, confidentiality, documentation and report writing (throughout).

2. Methodology

The programme followed a blended method made up of four connected steps, repeated for each topic:

Learn. Each topic began with a concept session in which the supervisor explained the purpose of the function, its main records and how it connects with other services. Notes were prepared in the student's own words.

Practise. The concepts were then applied in guided hands-on tasks - filling sample reservation and guest registration forms, drafting itineraries and package costing sheets, practising demo bookings, preparing event checklists and budgets, comparing vendor quotations and analysing sample feedback forms. Only sample or dummy data were used, so that no real guest information was handled.

Document. Every day's work was recorded in the internship attendance log with a short remark, and processes were written up as documentation so that the work could be reviewed.

Review. The supervisor reviewed the work, pointed out errors and suggested improvements. Review days, a case study and a mock practical exercise helped to consolidate the learning.

3. Understanding Hospitality, Tourism & Event Management - Concepts Studied

3.1 What is hospitality, tourism and event management. Hospitality is the business of welcoming and serving guests with accommodation, food and related services. Tourism is the business of travel for leisure, business, pilgrimage or other purposes, including transport, stay and sightseeing. Event management is the planning, organisation and delivery of events such as weddings, conferences, exhibitions and cultural programmes. All three are linked: a tourist stays in a hotel, a conference needs travel and rooms, and each depends on good service.

3.2 Structure of the industry. The industry is commonly grouped into (i) accommodation - hotels, resorts, guest houses, homestays and hostels, (ii) food and beverage - restaurants, banquets and catering, (iii) travel and tourism - tour operators, travel agents, transport providers and guides, (iv) events and MICE - Meetings, Incentives, Conferences and Exhibitions, and (v) attractions and recreation - heritage sites, parks and entertainment. Hotels may be classified by star rating, by type (budget, business, resort, boutique, heritage) and by ownership (independent, chain or franchise).

3.3 Departments of a hotel. A hotel works through connected departments:

Department	Main role
Front Office	Reservations, guest registration, check-in / check-out, information and guest billing
Housekeeping	Cleaning and upkeep of rooms and public areas, laundry and linen control
Food & Beverage (F&B) Service	Serving food and drinks in restaurants, room service and banquets
Kitchen (Food Production)	Preparing food safely and to standard
Sales & Marketing	Promoting the hotel, taking group and corporate bookings
Accounts & Finance	Billing, payments, purchases and cost control
Human Resources	Recruitment, training, attendance and staff welfare
Engineering & Maintenance	Electrical, plumbing, air-conditioning and equipment upkeep
Security	Safety of guests, staff and property; key and access control

3.4 The tourism sector. Tourism can be domestic (within the country), inbound (foreign visitors coming in) or outbound (residents travelling abroad). Its forms include leisure, business, pilgrimage, heritage, eco, adventure, medical and rural tourism. Bihar is part of the Buddhist circuit: Bodh Gaya (Mahabodhi Temple Complex, a UNESCO World Heritage Site), Rajgir and Nalanda attract many pilgrims and visitors, and Gaya is also known for the Vishnupad Temple and the Pitrapaksha fair. A tour operator designs and sells packages; a travel agent sells tickets and bookings; a guide interprets the destination for the visitor.

3.5 Front office and the guest cycle. The front office is the first and last point of contact with the guest. The guest cycle has five stages: pre-arrival (enquiry and reservation), arrival (registration and check-in), occupancy (services, requests and complaints), departure (billing and check-out) and post-departure (feedback and follow-up). Guest details recorded at registration, such as name, address, ID proof, arrival and departure dates and room type, must be accurate and kept confidential. Common terms are walk-in (guest without reservation), no-show (guest who does not arrive) and overbooking.

3.6 Guest handling and service standards. Good service means greeting the guest warmly, listening carefully, responding quickly and following up. A simple model for handling a complaint is LAST: Listen to the guest, Apologise, Solve the problem, and Thank the guest for pointing it out. Service standards such as response time, grooming, courtesy and cleanliness make the guest's experience consistent.

3.7 Tour package planning. A package combines transport, accommodation, meals, sightseeing, entry tickets, guide services and insurance into one priced product. It may be a fixed departure for a group (GIT) or a tailor-made trip for an individual or family (FIT). An itinerary lists each day's activities in a logical, realistic order with travel times. Costing adds fixed costs (for example, vehicle hire for the whole trip) and variable costs (for example, meals per person), then a margin, and divides the total by the number of guests; applicable taxes such as GST are shown as per rules.

3.8 Travel booking systems. Tickets, hotels and packages are booked through airline, railway (for example IRCTC) and hotel websites, Online Travel Agencies (OTAs) and Global Distribution Systems (GDS) used by travel agents. A booking creates a record such as a PNR (Passenger Name Record) and a confirmation voucher. Booking staff must check fares, dates, names as per ID proof, baggage and cancellation or refund rules before confirming.

3.9 Event planning. Events may be corporate (seminars, product launches), social (weddings, birthdays), cultural, academic, sports or exhibitions. Planning moves through stages: setting objectives, preparing a budget, choosing date and venue, taking permissions, appointing vendors, promotion and invitations, on-site execution, and post-event evaluation. A planning checklist, a timeline counted backwards from the event date and a run-of-show (minute-by-minute schedule) keep everyone coordinated.

3.10 Event budgeting. An event budget lists expected costs - venue, catering, decoration, sound and lights, printing, photography, transport, staff - and a contingency amount (commonly about 5 to 10 percent) for surprises. Income may come from registration fees, sponsors or the client's payment. During the event, actual expenses are recorded and compared with the budget; the difference is called variance. Break-even is the point where income equals cost.

3.11 Vendor coordination. Vendors such as caterers, decorators, sound and light suppliers, photographers, transport operators and venues deliver much of an event. Good practice is to give each vendor a written requirement brief, take at least three quotations, compare them on price, quality, reliability and terms, negotiate, issue a written work order, follow up regularly, confirm services a day before, and record feedback after the event.

3.12 Guest feedback analysis. Feedback is collected through forms, ratings (for example 1 to 5), comments, online reviews and surveys. Analysis means totalling the ratings, finding the average, identifying repeated complaints and suggesting action. The Net Promoter Score (NPS) asks guests how likely they are to recommend the service on a 0 to 10 scale: scores of 9 to 10 are promoters, 0 to 6 are detractors, and NPS = percentage of promoters minus percentage of detractors.

3.13 Safety and hygiene. Food safety includes clean hands and surfaces, separating raw and cooked food, safe storage temperatures and first-in first-out use of stock; in India food businesses work under the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 and FSSAI licensing, and the HACCP approach identifies critical points where food can become unsafe. Housekeeping hygiene covers cleaning schedules and linen handling. Fire safety follows the RACE steps (Rescue, Alarm, Contain, Extinguish) and the PASS method for extinguishers. Guest safety includes key control, working emergency exits, first aid and crowd management at events.

3.14 Key performance indicators (KPIs). Managers track numbers to judge performance:

Indicator	Meaning / Formula	Why it matters
Occupancy Rate	(Rooms sold / Rooms available) x 100	Shows how fully rooms are used
Average Daily Rate (ADR)	Room revenue / Rooms sold	Shows the average price obtained per room
RevPAR	Room revenue / Rooms available (= Occupancy x ADR)	Combines occupancy and price
Guest Satisfaction Score	Average rating from feedback forms	Shows service quality
Net Promoter Score	% promoters - % detractors	Shows guest loyalty
Event Cost per Guest	Total event cost / Number of guests	Helps price and compare events

3.15 Limitations and care needed. The industry depends on trained staff, clear procedures, accurate bookings, reliable vendors and teamwork. Seasonality, last-minute changes, cost overruns and weak communication can spoil the guest's experience and affect safety.

4. Week-wise Plan and Execution

Week	Days	Activities
Week 1	Days 1-6	Orientation and foundations: company induction, introduction to hospitality and event management, hospitality industry structure, and front office operations.
Week 2	Days 7-12	Guest and travel services: guest handling and service, tour package planning, and travel booking systems, each with a concept session and a hands-on task.

Week	Days	Activities
Week 3	Days 13-18	Event management: event planning basics, event budgeting and vendor coordination.
Week 4	Days 19-24	Quality, safety and application: guest feedback analysis, safety and hygiene standards, a case study exercise and a mock practical exercise.
Week 5	Days 25-28	Project closure: supervisor review and feedback, internship report drafting, presentation preparation and final review.

5. Week-wise Narrative

Week 1: The first week was devoted to orientation and foundations. After company induction, the student was introduced to hospitality and event management and studied the structure of the hospitality industry - hotel types, departments, the tourism sector and career roles. The week ended with a study of front office operations: reservations, registration and check-in / check-out.

Week 2: In the second week the study moved to guest handling and service - greeting, requests, service standards and complaint handling - followed by tour package planning, including itinerary design, transport, stay, costing and pricing, and travel booking systems for tickets, hotels and packages.

Week 3: The third week focused on events: event types, planning checklists, venue, timeline and logistics; preparation of an event budget and expense tracking; and vendor coordination, including quotations, follow-up and service confirmation.

Week 4: In the fourth week the student studied guest feedback analysis and safety and hygiene standards, including food safety, housekeeping hygiene, fire safety and guest safety procedures. A case study exercise and a mock practical exercise were completed in this week.

Week 5: The last week was devoted to project closure: supervisor review and feedback, drafting of the internship report, preparation of a presentation and final review before submission.

6. Topic-wise Learning in Detail

6.1 Hospitality Industry Structure

Concept: Explains hotel types, departments, the tourism sector and career roles, and how accommodation, food, travel and events connect to serve a guest.

Practice carried out: Preparing a chart of hotel departments and their roles; listing career roles in hotels, travel companies and event firms.

6.2 Front Office Operations

Concept: Reservations, check-in / check-out, guest registration and front-desk coordination. Concepts included the guest cycle, registration card, room status, walk-ins, no-shows and guest billing.

Practice carried out: Filling sample reservation and registration forms; practising a sample check-in and check-out with a dummy bill.

6.3 Guest Handling & Service

Concept: Greeting guests, handling requests, service standards and complaint handling using the LAST method, with emphasis on courtesy, listening and quick follow-up.

Practice carried out: Role-play of greeting, request handling and complaint situations with the supervisor's feedback.

6.4 Tour Package Planning and Travel Booking Systems

Concept: Itinerary design, transport, stay, costing and package pricing; booking of tickets, hotels and packages through online systems, with fare checking and cancellation rules.

Practice carried out: Drafting a sample 3-day itinerary and costing sheet; practising demo ticket and hotel bookings and preparing a booking confirmation record.

6.5 Event Planning, Budgeting and Vendor Coordination

Concept: Event types, planning checklist, venue, timeline and logistics; estimating costs, contingency and tracking expenses; selecting vendors, taking quotations, follow-up and confirmation.

Practice carried out: Preparing an event checklist and timeline; making a sample event budget in MS Excel; comparing three sample vendor quotations.

6.6 Guest Feedback Analysis, Safety and Hygiene

Concept: Feedback forms, ratings, comments and improvement points; food safety, housekeeping hygiene, fire safety and guest safety procedures.

Practice carried out: Totalling ratings from sample feedback forms and writing improvement points; completing a sample safety and hygiene checklist.

7. Standards, Laws and Good Practice - Key Points Studied

Important laws and rules (introductory awareness).

Law / Rule	Relevance to the industry
Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 (FSSAI)	Licensing and hygiene standards for food businesses
Consumer Protection Act, 2019	Guests as consumers; remedies for deficiency in service
Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023	Protection of guest and customer personal data
Goods and Services Tax (GST) rules	Tax on hotel, travel and event services as applicable
Local licences and permissions	Police, fire, music and venue permissions for events
Fire safety norms (National Building Code)	Exits, alarms, extinguishers and evacuation in buildings

Service standards. Punctuality, clean uniform and grooming, polite language, quick response to requests, accurate billing and respect for every guest's culture, religion and privacy.

Responsible tourism. Respect for local people and culture, protection of heritage sites and the environment, avoiding plastic waste, and fair dealing with guides, drivers and local suppliers.

Guest data and ethics. Guest details, ID copies and payment information must be used only for the booking and never shared without permission.

8. Process Flows Studied

Process mapping was used to understand how work moves through a service business and who is responsible at each step.

Process	Steps
Guest Cycle	Enquiry > Reservation > Arrival and registration > Stay and service > Billing and check-out > Feedback
Tour Package	Enquiry > Requirement noted > Itinerary and costing > Quotation > Booking and confirmation > Tour operation > Feedback
Travel Booking	Customer request > Fare / availability check > Booking > Payment > Ticket / voucher issued > Confirmation sent
Event Planning	Objective and budget > Date and venue > Permissions > Vendors appointed > Promotion > Execution > Evaluation

Process	Steps
Vendor Coordination	Requirement brief > Quotations > Comparison > Negotiation > Work order > Follow-up > Confirmation > Payment
Guest Complaint	Complaint received > Listen and apologise > Solve or escalate > Follow up > Record and learn

9. Worked Examples with Sample (Dummy) Data

Example A: Guest journey. To understand how one guest moves through several departments, a simple example was worked through using dummy data. These are illustrative sample entries, not real guest records.

Step	Action	Record created	Department
1	Room reservation for Sample Guest A (dummy)	Reservation slip and confirmation	Reservations / Front office
2	Arrival and check-in	Registration card, ID copy noted, room key issued	Front office
3	Room made ready	Room status updated, housekeeping checklist	Housekeeping
4	Meal and service request	Order slip / service request log	F&B / Guest services
5	Check-out and billing	Final bill, payment receipt	Front office / Accounts
6	Feedback collected	Guest feedback form	Guest relations

The example shows why accurate registration and billing matter: a wrong name, date or room type at step 1 carries into the key, the bill and the guest's final experience.

Example B: Room KPIs (dummy figures). A 40-room hotel sells 30 rooms on a night and earns Rs. 60,000 as room revenue. Occupancy = 30 / 40 x 100 = 75%. ADR = 60,000 / 30 = Rs. 2,000. RevPAR = 60,000 / 40 = Rs. 1,500 (also 75% x 2,000).

Example C: Sample tour package costing (dummy figures). A 3-day, 2-night heritage tour for 10 guests (5 twin-sharing rooms):

Cost item	Basis	Amount (Rs.)
Transport (tempo traveller, 3 days)	Fixed	18,000
Hotel (5 rooms x 2 nights x Rs. 1,500)	Variable	15,000
Meals (10 guests x 3 days x Rs. 500)	Variable	15,000
Entry tickets and guide	Variable	6,000
Miscellaneous and contingency	Fixed	3,000
Total cost		57,000
Margin at 15%	15% of 57,000	8,550
Package price (before applicable taxes)		65,550
Price per guest	65,550 / 10	6,555

Example D: Sample event budget (dummy figures). A one-day seminar for 100 guests:

Item	Basis	Amount (Rs.)
Venue	Lump sum	20,000
Catering	100 guests x Rs. 300	30,000
Stage and decoration	Lump sum	12,000
Sound and AV	Lump sum	8,000
Printing and stationery	Lump sum	5,000
Photography	Lump sum	6,000
Contingency	10% of 81,000	8,100
Total budget		89,100
Cost per guest	89,100 / 100	891

Example E: Feedback score (dummy figures). Ten sample forms rated "room cleanliness" as 5, 4, 4, 5, 3, 4, 5, 4, 4, 5. Total = 43, so the average score = 4.3 out of 5. The one low score of 3 was followed up with the housekeeping team.

10. Project: Guest Service & Event Planning Project

Scope. The internship work was organised around a project in which a tour package and an event plan were prepared, covering guest handling, budgeting and vendor coordination, using sample forms and dummy data.

Steps followed. (i) Studied the industry structure and guest cycle; (ii) prepared sample reservation and registration forms; (iii) designed a sample itinerary and costed the tour package; (iv) prepared an event checklist, timeline and budget; (v) compared vendor quotations and drafted a vendor confirmation; (vi) reviewed the work with the supervisor.

Skills and tools. Front Office Operations, Guest Service, Tour Planning, Event Budgeting, Vendor Coordination, MS Office.

Outputs. Sample forms and checklists, tour itinerary and costing sheet, event plan and budget, vendor comparison, and this internship report.

11. Case Study Exercise: Vendor Delay at a Corporate Seminar

A case study exercise was completed on a typical event problem. The event and figures are illustrative and not taken from any real organisation.

Part	Details
Background	A company organised a one-day seminar for 150 guests at a hotel banquet hall. The caterer, decorator and registration team were all arranged only by phone.
Problem observed	The caterer arrived 90 minutes late, stage decoration was incomplete at the start, and guests stood in a long queue at a single registration desk. Several guests complained to the organiser.
Analysis	There was no written work order or confirmation, no timeline with checkpoints, no backup vendor and no on-site coordinator. Registration was planned for the average flow, not for the peak arrival time.
Recommendations	(1) Issue written work orders with timings and penalties. (2) Prepare a T-minus checklist and run-of-show. (3) Reconfirm every vendor one day before and keep a backup caterer. (4) Appoint an on-site coordinator. (5) Use two or more registration desks with pre-printed badges. (6) Collect feedback after the event.
Expected result	On-time start, fewer complaints, better guest satisfaction and easier cost control.
Lesson learned	Written confirmations, early checks and a clear timeline are the best protection against last-minute vendor problems.

12. Mock Practical Exercise: Group Tour with a Welcome Dinner

In the mock practical exercise the student handled the administrative side of a sample (dummy) group booking from enquiry to feedback, using the forms and sheets practised earlier.

Step	Task	Document prepared / checked	Department
1	Enquiry	Enquiry form: group size, dates, budget, preferences	Sales / Reservations
2	Itinerary and costing	3-day itinerary and costing sheet with margin	Tour planning
3	Quotation and booking	Quotation sent; hotel and transport booking confirmed in writing	Reservations / Vendors
4	Arrival and check-in	Registration cards, room allotment, welcome briefing	Front office
5	Welcome dinner	Event checklist, catering and decor confirmation, run-of-show	Events / F&B
6	Service and complaints	Request log; one sample complaint handled with the LAST method	Guest relations
7	Check-out and billing	Final bill checked against quotation	Front office / Accounts
8	Feedback and closing	Feedback forms totalled; budget versus actual variance noted	Guest relations / Accounts

The exercise showed that every step depends on the one before it: an unclear quotation or an unconfirmed booking can disturb the whole tour and the final bill.

13. Sample Checklists Prepared

Checklists were prepared as part of the hands-on tasks. They reduce errors and make routine work easier to review.

Check-in Checklist	Check-out Checklist
Reservation found and details verified	Room inspected and key / card collected
Guest ID checked and registration card filled	Pending charges and bills checked
Room type, rate and stay dates confirmed	Final bill explained and payment received
Payment or advance recorded	Receipt / invoice given
Room key issued and room location explained	Luggage and transport help offered
Breakfast, Wi-Fi and facility details shared	Feedback form requested
Special requests noted	Guest record updated and room status changed

Event Planning Checklist	Safety & Hygiene Checklist
Objective, date and guest count fixed	Hands washed and surfaces cleaned
Budget approved with contingency	Raw and cooked food stored separately
Venue booked and permissions taken	Food stored at safe temperature, oldest stock used first
Vendors appointed with written work orders	Fire exits clear and extinguishers checked
Invitations, registration and badges ready	First-aid box available and stocked
Run-of-show shared with all teams	Emergency contact numbers displayed
Feedback form and post-event review planned	Waste segregated and disposed properly

14. Tools and Resources

Learning materials, sample reservation, registration and feedback forms, itinerary and package formats, MS Excel for costing and budgets, MS Word and PowerPoint for documentation and presentation, demo mode of online booking portals, FSSAI and Ministry of Tourism reference documents, assignments and mentor feedback were used during the internship.

b. Skills Learned

Technical Skills	Professional Skills
Reservation and guest registration handling	Communication and guest handling
Itinerary design and package costing	Customer service and problem solving
Online ticket and hotel booking basics	Time management and coordination
Event planning checklists and timelines	Negotiation and vendor follow-up
Event budget preparation and expense tracking	Teamwork and cultural sensitivity
MS Excel, MS Word and PowerPoint	Documentation, report writing and presentation

These skills were developed through repeated practice and daily documentation. Role-play improved confidence in guest handling, costing sheets improved accuracy and analytical thinking, and writing remarks and reports improved communication.

c. Observed Attitude and Gained Values

1. Courtesy and service: every guest must be welcomed and treated with respect.
2. Accuracy and responsibility: a small error in a booking, bill or budget affects the guest and the business.
3. Discipline and punctuality: regular reporting at fixed timings and daily attendance records.
4. Teamwork and coordination: events and tours succeed only when many people work together.
5. Integrity and confidentiality: guest information must be protected and records kept honestly.

d. Challenges Faced

Challenges Faced	How They Were Handled
Understanding industry terms such as ADR, RevPAR, PNR and MICE.	Used a glossary of terms, reference material and mentor guidance.
Calculating package costs and event budgets correctly.	Used MS Excel sheets with formulas and checked results with the supervisor.
Handling guest complaints calmly in role-play.	Practised the LAST method and took feedback after each role-play.
Comparing vendor quotations on more than price.	Used a comparison table covering price, quality, reliability and terms.
Maintaining consistent documentation.	Used daily log entries and reviewed feedback to improve documentation progressively.
Managing time between practice, documentation and report writing.	Divided work week by week and used review days for corrections.

e. Career Pathways

The knowledge gained supports further study and careers such as Front Office Executive, Guest Relations Executive, Travel Consultant or Ticketing Executive, Tour Coordinator or Tour Operator, Event Coordinator, Wedding and Social Event Planner, Vendor and Procurement Coordinator, and Hotel Management Trainee. Related higher-study options include Bachelor of Hotel Management, MBA in Tourism and Hospitality Management, and Master's programmes in Tourism and Travel Management or Event Management. Growing domestic travel and pilgrimage tourism, including in Bihar, increases the need for trained people.

CONCLUSION

The internship in Hospitality, Tourism & Event Management was a valuable learning experience that integrated academic knowledge with practical activity. The programme achieved its objectives through structured learning, guided practice, assignments, supervisor review and documentation.

The student gained a clear understanding of how hotels, tour operators and event organisers work - through front office operations, guest handling, tour package planning, travel booking, event planning, budgeting, vendor coordination, guest feedback and safety standards - and acquired practical familiarity with forms, costing sheets, budgets, checklists and process documentation. The experience has strengthened the student's employability and provides a foundation for further study and work in hospitality, travel and event management.

Reflection

Looking back, the most useful lesson of the internship was that a good guest experience is the result of careful planning behind the scenes. Moving from concept to practice to documentation made abstract ideas concrete, and supervisor feedback showed where understanding was weak. The habit of recording each day's work also made it easier to see progress over the weeks.

Objectives and Achievement

Objective	How it was achieved
Understand the industry	Concept sessions, study of hotel departments and glossary of terms
Learn front office and guest handling	Sample registration forms, check-in / check-out practice and role-play
Learn tour planning and booking	Sample itinerary, costing sheet and demo bookings
Learn event planning and vendors	Event checklist, budget in MS Excel and vendor quotation comparison
Understand feedback, safety and hygiene	Feedback analysis, safety and hygiene checklists and fire safety study
Develop professional discipline	Daily attendance, supervisor review and report writing

Future Scope

The knowledge gained can support further study of hospitality, tourism and event management and careers in hotels, travel companies, event firms and tourism departments. With growing travel, pilgrimage tourism, weddings and corporate events, trained professionals are increasingly needed.

Suggestions for Improvement of the Programme

1. Include more visits to hotels, travel offices and event venues, with appropriate permissions.
2. Continue regular mentor feedback and progress reviews.
3. Provide more project-based and group activities such as planning a small live event.
4. Encourage students to maintain detailed daily documentation.
